

2011 End of the Year Awards

Starting today through the end of the year, I'll be naming my best/worst things of the year, one at a time and culminating with Wrestler of the Year on December 31. These are in no particular order at all and please keep in mind that I didn't regularly watch ROH until their debut on national TV, I don't watch puro, I don't watch most indy shows, and I only barely keep up with AAA. If I left something out, odds are I didn't watch it.

Feel free to critique my thoughts or add in your own picks.
