

Thought of The Day: The Times They Are A Escalating

In the fall, WWE is going to be debuting a new weekly TV show called The Main Event. When that happens, there are going to be 8 and a half hours of free TV from WWE every week. On that scale, WWE would have more TV aired on free TV in approximately five weeks than there was on WWF PPV in all of the 1980s combined.

And people wonder why the shows are getting watered down.