

CM Punk Has Altercation With Fan At Raw

There are so many videos out there already that I'm not going to bother to put one here because there's bound to be something new by the time it's up. The general consensus seems to be that Punk was touched in the crowd and possibly hit in the back so he turned around and nailed someone who may or may not have been the person that touched him.

While it's too early to know anything for sure about it, any thoughts/news on this? Feel free to post any videos you have of it that are good.
