

Thought of the Day: The Jackhammer

No this isn't about Vince McMahon's sexual abilities in case you were thinking about it for some reason. If you were, I beg of you to seek help. Why has no one used the Jackhammer as a finisher since Goldberg? It's a good power move but you only occasionally see it used in the middle of a match. Goldberg hasn't wrestled in eight and a half years, so why not use it? It would be a good power move for someone instead of all of the neckbreakers and face first slams we get anymore.
