

Thought of the Day: Cena's Promo On Raw

This is a big news story lately with even ESPN.com mentioning. As for what I think, Yes it was a bad promo, but Cena has been cutting great ones for years now. He missed on this one and it went on way too far and he could have cut about three minutes out of it and gotten the point (Sunday is a big day and he's going to war. Why is that so hard for people to get?) across just the same. What wrestling fans' short attention spans seem to forget is that Cena is one of the best talkers ever. He messed this one up and that's it. Everyone is entitled to a misstep every once in awhile. Even Rock had some really stupid catchphrases ("Why don't you go and have a nice cool glass of SHUT UP JUICE?" or "How are your lips?") every now and then. It's not the end of the world and it's certainly not the end of Cena. It was a bad promo and at the moment nothing more than that.
