

Ten Years Ago Today

Evolution officially formed on Raw, setting off well over a year of domination of the show. The team, composed of Randy Orton, HHH, Ric Flair and Batista, represented the past (Flair), present (HHH) and future (Orton and Batista) of wrestling. To say the team was dominant is an understatement, as they held all of the titles at the same time and three members would wind up winning world titles.