

Thought of the Day: Cena vs. Rock II and The Comedy Of The Internet

So apparently, Rock vs. Cena II is happening at Wrestlemania 29. Naturally the general consensus is that this is a horrible idea and Punk HAS TO save it. Let's get this over with. 1. John Cena vs. The Rock I was the biggest drawing match of all time. It makes good business sense to try it again.

2. John Cena vs. The Rock has happened ONE TIME. The way people are talking, you would think it was Sheamus vs. Ziggler or something that happens once a week. It's their second match ever, not their 19th.

3. The first match was pretty good to great. My guess is the rematch will also produce an excellent match.

4. Punk has been defeated. From a storytelling perspective, it makes little sense to include him.

5. Triple threats suck anyway.
