

TNA Dropping TV Title

For the time being at least. The idea is there are too many competitions at the moment with stuff like Gut Check and the BFG Series so having another title isn't worth the effort. The title likely will be back someday, but there's no need to have it around at the moment. Can't say I disagree with the idea at all. This is the second title dropped in a few weeks as the Knockout Tag Titles were de-activated recently as well.
