

New Series: On This Day II

Since On This Day is nearing the end of its first year and has gone well so far, I'll be bringing it back next year but with a tweek. Next year instead of a show, it'll be focused on a single wrestler. I'm hoping that it'll be someone whose birthday is on that day but in case there's no one on that day I'll pick someone who did something special on that day. I'll be posting my thoughts on the person as well as reviews of a few of their matches, ranging from famous to less famous. This should be more interesting than some of the lame shows I've put up before. Hopefully I can keep up with the schedule on these unlike this year.

Hope you enjoy it,

KB