

Wrestlemania Gets Over 1,000,000 Views

With a number of buys that would usually make Vince want to jump off a building. The show did under 400,000 regular buys but with the 660k+ that it did on the Network, the show set a record for most people viewing the show, according to WWE. That was the plan, and it's not even taking international buys into account yet. That's a VERY good result for WWE.
