

Required Viewing #14: Where In The World Did This Come From?

I'm getting some Nitro reviews done in advance (the things I do for you people) and ran across this match. I barely remember it and watching it again made me scream at my computer. The participants are going to surprise you.

Ciclope/Damien vs. La Parka/Silver King

Bischoff is off commentary. This is a hardcore match for no apparent reason. It's a brawl to start with Silver King kicking a chair into Damien's face. Ciclope nails King with a trashcan and whips La Parka into it for good measure. There's another can brought in and wrapped around La Parka's head for Poetry In Motion from Damien. La Parka bails to the floor but gets caught with a baseball slide with a chair to knock him silly. Not that it matters as he picks up a chair and nails a diving Ciclope in the head with the same chair in an awesome visual.

Damien dropkicks La Parka off the chair and goes outside, only to have to throw the chair at a diving Silver King. La Parka puts Damien in the chair and takes him down with another suicide dive before Silver King throws a trashcan out of the ring and over Ciclope's head. He follows it up with an Asai Moonsault to take everyone out in a cool spot. Damien takes La Parka back inside and takes a chair to the head followed by a trashcan lid for a bonus.

La Parka sets up a chair and tries a superplex on Damien, but has to settle for just throwing him face first onto the chair for two. Ciclope NAILS La Parka with a trashcan lid to break up a top rope hurricanrana attempt, swinging so hard that it flies to the announcers' table and into Schiavone's hands.

Ciclope gets backdropped to the floor as Damien is setting up a table. It doesn't last long though as Silver King tornado DDTs Ciclope through the table for another big crash. Damien's middle rope hurricanrana is countered into a powerbomb through another table for two. Tony: "He kicked out!" Heenan: "WHY???" La Parka sets up two chairs and powerbombs Damien onto them (with the chairs not giving an inch) for the pin.

Rating: B. WHERE IN THE WORLD DID THIS COME FROM??? This was an outstanding brawl with all four guys hitting each other as hard as they could for some awesome bumps and spots. It's a seven minute match that had me wanting to see more, even though I'm not a fan of most of the guys involved. I have no idea where this came from or why it wasn't done more often, but it's worth checking out. Really good stuff.