

Wrestling Wars Podcast

Episode #2

This time the focus is on NFL football with wrestling taking a bit of a backseat. This is a bit of a bonus episode and an introduction to my fellow featured guest Ty Burna (who has helped me keep this site operational in the past). Also in case you weren't wild on them, this show cut down on the F Bombs, but they're still there because that's just how NorCal talks. Assuming there's no complications on my end, I should be back on this weekend for an Extreme Rules preview show so keep an eye out for that.
