

Kurt Angle vs. Ethan Carter III Airing On Impact, Not At Slammiversary

TNA Announces Kurt Angle vs. EC3 TNA Title Match For July 1st

It gets harder and harder to defend this company every single day. I get the idea of wanting to beef up the TV shows, but what in the world is headlining this pay per view that is going to make people want to drop $40 to see it? Also, I'd assume that part of the idea is not to spoil a World Title match taking place after the tapings, so the solution is to air it during the tapings? This pay per view is going to be Bound For Glory all over again, making it a very, very long sit.
