

Paige and Mark Henry Retire

Paige and Mark Henry have both retired, with the former due to injury and the latter seemingly just because he's old enough to.

<https://411mania.com/wrestling/paige-wrestling-wwe-ending/>

<https://411mania.com/wrestling/mark-henry-considered-retired-we-without-fanfare/>

Henry leaving isn't a big surprise as he hasn't wrestled since Wrestlemania XXXIII and honestly, it's not that big of a loss at this point. He was awesome in 2011 but aside from that, it was a lot of the same old stuff from him. He was a heck of a mainstay though, especially given how one note his character was for a long time.

Paige...egads. She's 25, has a long resume and just came back after a long hiatus due to injury. I was really interested in seeing what was going to happen with the Absolution stable but now, I can't imagine things going well for the other members. This is quite the shame and I'd have loved to see Paige against the newer women.