It's way, WAY too early to know if this is going anywhere, but if it's true I'd be stunned if he gets the title in New Orleans. With the TV deal coming up, I don't think WWE would want to pull the trigger on something like this.

That of course brings up the major problem: what if they postpone THIS TIME FOR SURE until XXXV and make us waste another year on this nonsense? I don't think I can take that again.
