

Update On Things

My grandmother's funeral was today and things should be settling back down. I haven't decided if I'm doing NXT tonight but odds are I won't be doing it live. Starting tomorrow or Friday, I should be able to start catching up on the shows I've been missing. I'm sorry for the delays but my mind hasn't exactly been up for work lately and I wouldn't want to force things out when they wouldn't be up to my usual standard. Things will be back to normal pretty soon and I have a list of the shows I've been missing so eventually I'll get them all up.
