

Happy Anniversary

To me actually. Ten years ago to the day, I posted my first ever review. Now it's about 5200 later, meaning I put up about ten reviews a week. I know I've slowed down a lot over the years, but egads how did that happen? Thank you for being around with me this long and I'll try to be around for a long time. I mean, I'm destined for carpal tunnel but I can get someone to take dictation right?
