

Thought Of The Day #3: Territory Dazed

Again, not my thought but I haven't done one of these in about a year so three in a row is making up for some missed time. Bill Watts ran the Mid-South territory, yet Jerry Lawler and Memphis ran the Mid-South Coliseum in Memphis, Tennessee every week.

Ok so this is more an observation than a thought but it's been a long night and Observation Of The Day doesn't have the same ring to it.
