

Wrestlemania XXXVI Preview: Kevin Owens vs. Seth Rollins

What happened to this feud?

This is something that seemed to be a much bigger match than it wound up being. The biggest problem here is how the story has kind of fallen apart due to so many people involved being out of the show for various reasons. That makes things all the more complicated, but at the end of the day it just isn't all that interesting on its own. Rollins has cooled a bit, but who hasn't at this point?

I'll take Rollins here and I don't know why he would lose in this situation. I know that they're setting up the idea that Owens has never won anything at WrestleMania (incorrect but whatever) but Rollins seems to have a lot more potential moving forward than he does. Hopefully the match is good, but this should be Rollins the entire way, albeit after some good near falls.
