

Wrestlemania XXXVI Preview: King Corbin vs. Elias

Hang on a second though.

Yeah let's just get this one out of the way early. It's one of those matches that you have nightmares about but at the same time, I'm almost curious to see how bad this can actually be. This is your nightmare show of the year and my goodness it could be incredible in one way or...well ok there isn't another on there because this isn't going to work, but that might be the case for another reason.

I don't think Elias is working this match. They did the big injury angle last week and I think you know where this is going: Rob Gronkowski takes his place and gets his win over Corbin. As much as I could go for seeing Corbin lose, I think Gronkowski might be even more annoying. This is something that we're just going to have to get through because Gronkowski has personality, which is code for he's one of those people you want to see get tasered and throw off a bridge in Louisiana. Somehow this might be worse, but at least this should be short.
