

New Column: Yeah Not A Fan

Another fan apparently doesn't live up to some imaginary standard.

This is probably going to be the last column for the time being. I've done over 430 of them over 8+ years and they're becoming more and more of a chore. I tend to spend more time thinking "dang I have to do that too" and dreading it more, which is the sign that it's time to switch things up. I might do some short form stuff in the future, but for now, this is pretty much it.
