

Jay Briscoe Passes Away At 38 Years Old

As confirmed by Tony Khan. There is no cause of death confirmed as far as I've seen but there is speculation that it was a car crash. What can you even say about something like this? Jay was the most decorated star in Ring Of Honor history and had more classics with his brother Mark than you could count. Their feud with FTR last year was the Feud of The Year and no team in Ring Of Honor comes close to the Briscoes' success. Throw in a pair of World Title reigns and Jay is an all timer in the promotion. This is the definition of tragic and I have no idea what to say. Absolutely horrible and all thoughts and prayers to his family.

Sadly, Jamin Pugh has passed away. Known to fans as Jay Briscoe, he was a star in ROH for over 20 years, from the first show until today.

Jay and his brother Mark dominated ROH, reigning as champions to this day. We'll do whatever we can to support his family. Rest In Peace Jamin
