

Back Up For Now

So as you may have noticed, the site has been down since at least Tuesday afternoon. As I'm not the most tech savvy person, the best I can tell is that there was some kind of bot attack which knocked it offline. Tech support said one IP address hit here over 10,000 times in a day. Things seem to be working for the time being though and I'll be putting up the reviews I've missed as fast as possible.

Thank you for your patience.
