

Things Might Be A Bit Slow This Weekend

Had a bit of a family health emergency (nothing serious but it came out of nowhere) so I'll be running back and forth to the hospital for a bit while taking care of my five month old. I'm not sure what I'll be able to do and Survivor Series might have to be postponed. I'm very sorry about the delay but it's out of my hands.

Hooray For Nine Hour Delays

So I've been stuck in Houston for about nine hours and won't be getting back to Louisville until around 11:15 local time, followed by about an hour and fifteen minute drive back to the house. Since I'm on about 90 minutes sleep, odds are NXT won't be up tonight. I apologize in advance in a hope to avoid further emails saying:

Wrestlemania is over. Get up off yo lazy a and get back to work!!!!

For clarification, I believe that was due to me not answering a question in less than six hours. And yeah it's probably petty to mention this but it's been a long day.

I've got most of Stand & Deliver up and then I'll start plowing through the pile again tomorrow.

Thank you again for your patience with me.

Raw Might Be Delayed On Monday

My Kentucky Wildcats will be playing for the national championship so I might be a little preoccupied. I'll be recording the show and the review will be up as soon as possible, but this takes precedent. Sorry guys.

Starting Tomorrow

Through the Saturday after Thanksgiving, things are going to be a little slow. I'll have someone coming into town and I'll be wanting to spend as much time with her as possible. I won't be able to do the live reviews but I'll probably have the reviews up no later than 24 hours later. I'll have the Survivor Series Count-Up stuff every day and I'll post some quick thoughts on the PPV on Sunday if I get to see it live. Thanks for your patience.
