

Full Mouth of the South Shore Appearance

It runs just under two and a half hours but it covers a lot of ground including Raw, Wrestlemania XXXI and Perro Aguayo. I'm on there the entire time.

<https://soundcloud.com/i-95sportsnet/mouth-of-the-south-shore-radio-show-3-23-15?in=i-95sportsnet/sets/mouth-of-the-south-shore-radio>

Thank You All Again

Yesterday was the best day I've ever had for the E-Books to cap off the best month I've ever had. Thank you to anyone who picked one of them up and thank you for keeping me going this long.

KB

New E-Book: KB's History of

Saturday Night's Main Event

One of the most common complaints wrestling fans have today is how much content there is to watch. WWE alone has at least seven hours of wrestling TV a week. For over twenty years, we've gotten used to wrestling airing every Monday night with some of the biggest stars in the sport squaring off. However, things weren't always the same. Back in the 1980's, wrestling television was based around the idea of squash matches. Most shows featured a big name against an unknown and matches against other stars were almost unheard of.

Things began to change in 1985. Powered by the strength of Wrestlemania and Hulkamania, the WWF was able to air a series of specials on NBC, featuring matches between big name stars and even title matches, all for free. The shows were major successes and helped push the company into their golden era, sending professional wrestling to heights no one had ever seen possible.

In this book, I'll be looking at all thirty six episodes of the series, as well as the five Main Event specials, breaking down every match, segment and show as a whole. As usual I'll be providing play by play, historical context and analysis of every show. The reviews are all new and never before seen.

The books runs over 300 pages on a Kindle and only costs $3.99, or the equivalent in other currencies. If you don't have a Kindle or e-book reader, there are several FREE apps you can use to read it on pretty much any electronic device. You can find those from Amazon here.

You can pick up the book from Amazon here.

From the UK Amazon here.

From the Canadian Amazon here.

Or if you're in another country with its own Amazon page, just search "KB' Saturday" and my book will be the first thing that pop up.

Also you can still get any of my previous books on the WWE Championship, Monday Night Raw from 1998 and 2001, Monday Nitro from 1995-97, In Your House, Summerslam, Starrcade, ECW Pay Per Views, Royal Rumble and Clash of the Champions at my author's page here.

I hope you like it and shoot me any questions you might have.

KB

Remember That TNA Access Thing I Mentioned?

Well it's starting to come to fruition. One of the co-hosts of the show I've been on before got an interview with Jeff Jarrett, which can be heard here:

<http://www.broiledsports.com/2015/01/broiled-sports-exclusive-interview-w.html>

To help support their efforts to get more access like this (and potentially to have me getting the same access), check them out at:

i95sportsnetwork.com

Also make sure to like them on Facebook at:

<https://www.facebook.com/MouthOfTheSouthShoreRadioShow>

And follow them on Twitter:

@MotSSRadio

This is an actual possibility at this point and it would do them (and me) a lot of good to get some extra support behind them.

KB

Criticize Me

I can always use some criticism/suggestions so what do you want to see me do more/less of from here on out? Is there something I do too much of or not enough of? Let me know if there is or isn't so I can try to make some adjustments if need be.

And no I won't be doing more puro, at least not on a regular basis. I just don't care enough.

Thought of the Day: Keeping It Simple

Why do people make these things so complicated?

Merry Christmas.

Want To Hear KB Talk To TNA Wrestlers?

It's a possibility actually.

As you may know, I'm a semi-regular guest on the Mouth of the South Shore Radio Show. The network that airs the show is being considered to receive media access to TNA, meaning some of their talent will appear on the show. However, they need more social media activity to get such access. If they do, the host has told me that I'll be able to go on the show and talk to the wrestlers live.

So, I need some help with this. If you could, please like Facebook page:

<https://www.facebook.com/MouthOfTheSouthShoreRadioShow>

And follow this Twitter account:

@MotSSRadio

I know the host and I've talked to him several times. He's a good, funny guy who knows his stuff and actually posts here fairly regularly. Please help him (and me) out with this as it would be a huge step forward for the show, the site, and myself. If you have any wrestling friends that would like these, try to get them on board as well. Anything would help it out.

KB

I'm Doing A Live Radio Show Tonight

I'll be back on the Mouth of the South Shore Radio Show at approximately 11:30pm EST tonight. The show is live so we'll have Raw to discuss plus of course the Punk interview. I've been on the show before and it's always a good talk, as hosted by one of the commenters here on the site.

Check it out live here:

i95sportsnetwork.com

The show is going to run about 90 minutes and will be available to listen to on demand about 24 hours later. These shows are always fun and the host is a smart guy. Come check it out.

KB

Thank You All Again

Friday was the best day I've ever had with the book sales, breaking the release day for the Nitro 1997 book. You have no idea how much I appreciate you guys doing this.

In a related note, there's going to be a Holiday special starting on the books this Friday so keep an eye out for that.

Thank you again,

KB

Potential Maintenance

Upcoming

Got a message from my hosting company and they're doing some work on the server that hosts my site. There's a chance that the site may be down for a short amount of time sometime in the next few days. Everything is fine and I know it's coming but please bear with me if you can't get on for a bit. This should only be a one time thing.

KB