

Impact Wrestling Moving Back To Wednesdays Starting June 3

According to Dixie, though I'm sure you all know this as EVERYONE follows her on Twitter right? I'd much rather have three hours to do on Wednesdays (counting NXT) and have Friday night off. There's no way around the Friday night death slot, though I'm always curious to see TNA diehards' latest explanation for why the ratings still aren't great.

Impact Moving To Fridays

There will be a live show on January 7 and then the show moves to Fridays the next week. That isn't going to help the ratings either.

Smackdown Officially Returning To Thursdays

On January 15, as confirmed by WWE. This is a good thing for WWE as people actually watch TV on Thursdays.

Impact Moving To Wednesdays

It's official and I'm thrilled. This makes Thursdays WAY easier for me as I was doing NXT and Impact at the same time so now I can actually breathe a bit. This is going to take some getting used to but I'll deal with it. Tonight is the last night for Impact on Thursdays.
