

WWE Trivia Game Site

You might have heard me talk about Sporcle before. Sporcle is a really fun and addictive trivia site with quizzes about everything, ranging from word games to Harry Potter to countries of the world. Well now they have a WWE section which I use to kill time on a daily basis. I can highly recommend the random button, though it's incredibly addictive. There's also TNA stuff in there but it's limited as you would expect. Check it out.

Some Rumble Trivia For You

JR said this on commentary for the 2004 Rumble and remarkably enough it's still true heading into the 2013 edition.

The Dudleys are the only teams to win the (non-vacant) tag titles at the Rumble. In 25 years of the Rumble, no one else has ever won them. I love little factoids like that which you would never think of otherwise.

Anybody have any interesting ones?
