

Thought of the Day – The Most Underrated Wrestler Of The Last Decade

He was older than most rookies, he had a distinctive look, he was AWESOME in developmental, he came up about the same time as Orton and Cena and for my money was the best prospect of those three in his first year on WWE TV. He had a horrible gimmick but made it both memorable and pretty entertaining. He is..... Rico.

---

Underrated Matches

What are some matches you don't hear people talk about that you're a fan of?

One of the matches I remember liking is the main event of Uncensored 97. it's a three team 12 man tag with Team Piper vs. Team WCW vs. Team NWO with a stipulation if each of them wins. The whole thing actually works and there's nothing to it that is too far over the top that it gets ridiculous. The post match appearance by Sting and confirming that he's WCW is awesome stuff too.

Your picks?