

A Few Updates

First of all I've added a Columns section to the quick links menu on the right. I Want To Talk A Little Bit About has pretty much been replaced by the columns so there needed to be a place where they were all collected.

Second, I gave Lucha Underground its own section on the All Reviews and Miscellaneous pages. They have almost twenty shows so it's long past time it had its own area.

A Few Updates

I finally added some stuff to the links page. That's the first time in probably a year or so. Also I changed the On This Day page a bit by adding what the shows were instead of just the dates. I'm not sure why I didn't do that in the first place.

Links Updated

Dropped the 411 link because I don't post there anymore and added a new one in the form of Adam King's blog. He does some old school WWF reviews and is worth checking out.
