Time for some history!

Free Matt Morgan Interview

No I didn't conduct it, but I work with people that did. Over at another site I work for, we have an exclusive hour long sitdown interview with Matt Morgan for free. All you have to do is sign up for our newsletter (free) which means you'll be sent breaking news updates and maybe one e-mail a week (possibly with something written by me in it). The guy that conducts the interview is a friend of mine and good at what he does so the interview is well worth checking out. Also make sure you check wrestlingrumors.net at least 857 times a day. They're fast, good, well done and smart. Not to mention I have at least five reviews up there a week so you know you'll get something good.

Check us out and catch the interview which is completely free.

KB Does Live Coverage

Starting tonight, I'll be doing live coverage for pretty much every show that I review already on wrestlingrumors.net. I won't be posting my thoughts on them, but if you need updates on what's going on at the PPV tonight or upcoming TV shows, check me out over there. I'll be posting some reviews in the future there too. Check it out. The review will be up in full as usual.
