Wrestlingrumors.net

And here's a nifty link for you anti-copy and paste people.

I'm not sure how many of you know about this place but it's a rather good site for daily wrestling news and rumors. Granted I might be a bit biased because I write a good chunk of the material that goes up there. Like so many other sites, it's taking some hits at the moment and could always use some extra support. I'd appreciate it if you check it out for your daily wrestling news needs as we can always use the extra traffic. If you happen to click on some ads here and there, I wouldn't be opposed.

Check it out if you have the time. If nothing else, see what's on my mind on Wednesdays as I have an exclusive column there, plus random reviews on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. I do live coverage of all major shows as well, save for NXT as I do Dynamite live.

Roman Reigns Off Wrestlemania And More Changes Likely To Come

Just stop it already.

We are less than two weeks away from Wrestlemania XXXVI and my goodness it couldn't get much worse. I love Wrestlemania and WWE quite a bit but egads it's falling apart right in front of our eyes. Roman Reigns is now likely off the card, meaning that one of the show's main events is going to be off the cards. I'm not sure what that is going to mean (likely Braun Strowman taking Reigns' place) but how many more things can go wrong?

According to the Observer, quite a bit as as apparently a lot more names are going to be taken off the show or just did not come in for it in the first place. I still understand why the show is happening and why WWE is so gung ho about it, but I don't think even they could have had any idea how bad this is going to be. No rational fan is going to grade this fairly against any other Wrestlemania of the past, but at this point we're looking at more of a joke than anything else.

What is anyone here supposed to do? Act like everything is fine and this is what they want? I'm not sure how good or bad the show is going to be, but they are reaching new levels of pathetic. I know the whole thing isn't their fault, but at what point does someone throw in a towel because they've taken enough? My guess would be the night after Wrestlemania, even though that show has been taped as well. This is getting even worse in a hurry, and I didn't think that was possible at this point.
